OUT OF THE CLOSET

INVISIBLE, HIGHLY MOBILE, CONVERTIBLE. DESIGNERS ARE SLIMMING DOWN EVERYTHING FROM DESKS TO MAGAZINE RACKS, LEAVING ONLY THE COOKIE-CUTTER OUTLINES OF MATERIAL, MAKING STORAGE FURNITURE LIGHT ENOUGH TO BE MOVED QUICKLY OUT OF SIGHT OR BETTER YET, MAGICALLY TRANSFORMED: FROM DESKTOP TO SEAT, COAT-RACK TO LAMP, OR OUR FAVORITE, FROM STEAMER TRUNK TO WET BAR. WRITERS: LEILA BRILLSON, TIMEA HOPP, SHONQUIS MORENO, AISHA SPEIRS, FAN ZHONG

01 Cityscape by VAUGH-SHANNON These charming newcomers bring a wee bit o' Dublin into the home with a coffee-table-cum-bookshelf and a walnut-veneered outline of a skyline. vaughshannon.com 02 Ueli Paper Collector by Alfredo Häberli for TRUNZ We've seen combination paper bin-wastebaskets before – but then again, the Beatles didn't invent pop music, they merely perfected it. alfredo-haerberli.com 03, 04 Shelving by JUN MURAKOSHI A stackable chair is a particularly useful space-saver – that is, until it's stacked, at which point it becomes a space-wasting eyesore. Jun Murakoshi designed these timber and plywood chairs with paper honeycomb-panel backs to double as shelving. junmurakoshi.com 05 Dado by Studio Kairos for B&B ITALIA Remember Lego's Duplex toys? The upper drawers in this two-toned bureau can be anointed with distinguishing solid colors and glossy varnishes. bebitalia.it 06 Revo by Marc A. Thorpe for 3E STUDIOS For the wildly indecisive decorator in everyone: These units can be stacked on the floor or mounted to the wall, form a screen or even create a conversation nook. 3estudios.net 07 Bacchus by SLIDE These stackable plastic crates of the future hold up to 40 bottles and are a playful alternative to the cobwebbed wine racks of old. slidedesign.it 08 B Side by Patricia Urquiola for MOROSO Play it again, Patricia. By rearranging the lacquered shelves and containers on B Side's screen-printed glass frames, personalized storage sings a tune all your own. morosousa.com 09 Surfacer by ZAUM Lending every inch of its continuous surface to storage, this multifunctional and delightfully bright bench satisfies those primal needs: fun, form and function. zaum.net 10 Isidoro by Jean-Marie Mas-saud for POLTRONA FRAU Move up a class from boxed wine to a boxed cocktail bar. Prop open this saddle leather trunk to find finely detailed chrome, walnut shelves, and a full complement of barware. frauusa.com 11 The Unexpected Visitor Coatlight by MATHIAS HAHN If your trench coat is looking a bit shabby, you'll want to procure a new one
